MEZIERES AN AMERICAN OBJECTIVE

Mezieres is one of the objectives of the American army. The way is rough and the fighting hard. This is a corner of the city looking across a broken bridge, wrecked on a previous occasion when Mezieres was under fire.

NEW "REVOLVER" GUN CAPTURED FROM GERMANS

One of the first photographs received in this country showing the new type of "revolver" field gun. This big field gun has five firing tubes, which revolve automatically. The gun was captured from the Germans during the present heavy fighting on the western front.

WAR NOT OVER

Thinks W. T. Ervin, Who Speaks in Skeyhill's Place.

Tom Skeyhill, the soldier, poet and philosopher, veteran of campaigns in Palestine, on the Gallipoli peninsula and in France, telegraphed at the last minute Sunday night that he had missed train connections and could not appear at the Centenary church as scheduled. Though eager to hear the famed speaker, the audience felt compensated by the thrilling talk delivered by Prof. Walter E. Ervin, now in Y.
M. C. A. work, in his stead.

Prof. Ervin's experiences have been many and varied since entering "Y" work, having been stationed 6th at land and on transport, and the instances he related first-hand of the Hun's frightfulness, the Americans' bravery and the humorous phases of army life were vivid.

He was on board the Mount Vernon, loaded with 400 wounded soldiers returning to the states from France, when that vessel was torpedoed. Due to an efficient smoke screen made by a convoy of destroyers, the ship was able to put back to France for repairs, but thirty-eight lives had been lost. These were of firemen and other workers in the hold, which was partly filled with water after being struck by the torpedo.

Prof. Ervin gave great praise to the bravery of the crew in the crisis. Soon after the ship had been struck and had escaped temporarily, heading for France, it became time for a new set of men to go down in the hold, far below the level of the water. A few minutes before nearly forty men had been entrapped in one of its compartments, yet the new watch descended with alacrity and with never a thought of fear.

When the Mount Vernon reached port again, the bodies which had lain in one of the water-filled compartments in the hold were entirely beyond recognition, due to the water and the constant rolling of the ship. It listed badly on the way in and was very difficult to handle.

According to his statement, Prof.
Ervin does not believe the war will be over soon. With the trite statement that the German line, by being shorter, is today stronger than ever before, he made mention of several things which would tend to a lengthening of the war.
And after the war, he said, American soldiers will be the ones kept to hold fortifications and strong points, thus keeping Germany to her agreements.

Dr. O. E. Brown, a Y. M. C. A. seretary stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, spoke for a few minutes, preceding Prof. Ervin. His theme was the value of his chosen work in the camps. He called attention to the fact that soldiers facing the Hun have more enemies within than without. These, he said, are the ones the "Y" is fighting.

P. J. Krueel, county chairman for the united war work drive, opened the meeting with a few remarks regarding it. Music was rendered by a Fort Oglethorpe "Y" double quartet.

HUNGARIAN DELEGATE AT PEACE CONFERENCE

Reports from Basle say that Hungary is seeking national life, independent of Austria, and desires to insure the integrity of her territory, secure a seaport, and have the right to settle her own internal affairs. The report adds that Hungary has also claimed the right to be represented at the peace conference by a special delegate and has suggested Count Albert Apponyi, opposition leader of the Hungarian parliament. Count Apponyi is said to have approved the peace proposals of the central empire. "It is not we who bring about the fall of the dual monarchy," he is quoted as saying. "It has collapsed on itself."

CARS RUNNING AGAIN

Savannah Strikers' Demands Not Met
New Men Used.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 4.—The street car service of Savannah was resumed this morning after a strike of three days' duration among the motormen and conductors. The Savannah Electric company states the cars are manned by experienced trainmen, although there are some motormen and conductors who declined to return to work. The first service of the day was put on the A and B belt that runs cars through the business section.
Later the Thunderbolt and Isle of Hope suburban lines were put in operation.
The early cars had wire netting latched over the front ends to protect the motormen from any missiles that might be thrown. There has been no disorder. The police are co-operating with the company in maintaining order by preventing the collection of crowds at terminals and corners. It looks as if the backbone of the strike is effectively broken, although no service to the west side, leading to the government shipbuilding plants, has yet been attempted.
